The Dedication

TO MR. MOE, our principal, who by his fair and wise counsel, his untiring service, and his high ideals, has helped us to attain the goal for which we have striven, this annual is dedicated.

Forward

FOR OVER a quarter of a century Dassel High School has stood for the training of its students in high ideals, in the formation of sound character, in developing leadership and in the preparation of its young people for nobler service in the world. The aim of this edition of the Dazzler is to show this four-fold purpose of our educational system and to retain many of the pleasant memories connected with our school.

THE FACULTY is composed of fifteen efficient instructors in the various branches of learning. Although we often fail to appreciate the effort they put forth to make the students useful citizens, the imprints left upon the lives of these pupils will long remain.

Mr. Moe, our principal, our friend,
Has fashioned a path where we may wend
Our ways through life. Likewise
Mr. Gustafson has often stated,
"Courage and ambition are related."
But we can ne'er forget the pleasant smile
Miss Sealander never kept on file.
Miss Ording, too, we did admire;
Of cunning wit we never tire.
Mr. Heinzel leads the band,
But Mr. Munson tills the land.
Miss Arveson, an athlete did reveal,
In Physical Education she did deal.
Mr. Gebhart, our coach, we all adore;
His cheerful face made our hopes soar.
Miss Russell really is a dandy,
Miss Rygg excels in making candy.
A smiling face, a clever joke
Depicts Mr. Edberg—when he isn't broke.
And then there's a teacher for each grade
Misses Chester, Berg, Splettstazer, Carlson form that parade.
We lift our heads in admiration
To the faculty—our administration.

Class of 1938

IN SEPTEMBER, 1934, forty-three unruly students enrolled in the Dassel High to begin their high school career as Freshmen. This group, to be known as the class of 1938, soon recovered from the shyness they once possessed and set out upon an eventful year. The hard-time party was perhaps the first outstanding event in which the class participated. Class leadership rested in the hands of Grace Alm, president; John Wreisner, vice president; and Harold Carlson, secretary and treasurer.

The following year the class took the name of Sophomores—36 students now answering the roll call. Officers were selected early in the year and now included Doris Oberg, president; Willard Isaacson, vice president; and Lenore Hanson, secretary-treasurer. Some of the activities carried on included the class party and picnic. Several girls served as waitresses at the Junior-Senior banquet. Willard Isaacson and Roy Bengtson acted as two able clowns in carrying out a circus theme.

As this same group began their Junior year, they were inspired with more determination to accomplish great things. Among the outstanding undertakings was the class play, a mystery, entitled "The Panther's Claw," which portrayed the dramatic ability of the class. The Junior-Senior banquet, with the Juniors as host, carried out a nautical theme and met with great success. Their officers for the year were Lenore Hanson, president; Lowell Peterson, vice president; Mildred Gustafson, secretary; and Annette Swanson, treasurer.

As Seniors, the class numbered forty, now a group of able and willing students with Miss Odiorne and Mr. Moe as class advisers. The trip through the charitable institutions of the state was perhaps the most enjoyable occurence of the year. One of the outstanding achievements of the year was the presentation of the class play. "Apron String Revolt." The class party and banquet were events that will linger long in the minds of each student. One day of the year which ranks high in importance was the characteristic "Kid Day", a time of revival of childish habits and customs. Class night was a summary of the high points of the class and a revelation of some of the talents of individual pupils. The presentation of awards exhibited achievement in activities such as basketball, baseball, journalism, commercial work, etc. Several members of the class belonged to our musical organizations. Class officers of the year were Victor Anderson, president; Clayton Olson, vice president; Marian Hasti, secretary; and Lowell Peterson, treasurer. High school days culminated in baccalaureate services and commencement exercises, and the class of 1938 emerged as graduates of Dassel High School.

All in all, the class can feel that their days at Dassel High have made them better fitted for the future and that they, as students, have left behind an example which undergraduates can follow.

Seniors

IN A SHORT while, we Seniors will complete our years at Dassel High School with our commencement exercises. To some, it will seem merely the last event in their lives as high school students. To others it is the beginning of a career, new hopes, and the fulfillment of ambitions.

We are nearing the end of four years of experience and learning, years that have given us the opportunity to lay the foundation of a successful life. We are not yet at the top but we are climbing upward with a high goal in view and with our own ambition, wisdom, and common sense, as our companions. With this in mind, let us become citizens America will be proud to own.

Class Motto—"Not at the top, but climbing."
Class Flower—American beauty rose.
Class Colors—American Beauty and White.

Not on picture: Phyllis Nelson, Maxine Johnson.

OF THE fifty students enrolled in the Freshman class of 1937-1938, ten began kindergarten together. They organized their class early in the year by selecting the following as class officers: Richard O'Fallon, president; Ethel Anderson, vice president; Jean Sallberg, secretary, and Berniece Anderson, treasurer. Miss Johnson and Mr. Munson were class advisers.

The first social event was their class party held in November, 1937. The picnic held on June 2nd brought the Freshman year to a conclusion.

On September 6, 1938, with additions and subtractions, forty-six sophomores had to climb three instead of two flights of stairs to their designated work benches. The class, under the supervision of their advisers, Miss Sealander and Mr. Gebhard, reelected all officers with the exception of vice president. The office is now filled by Phyllis Nelson.

The annual class party was held on Armistice Day. Some of the extra curricular activities of these students are basketball, football, declamation, G. A. A. and musical activities.

The class has a fine start along the path of learning and the outlook upon the future years at Dassel High is only pleasant.

Freshmen

Second Row: Mr. Heinzel, Roy Carlsted, Wallace Granath, Newell Holmquist, Rosalie Christianson, Jean Abbott, Marion Larson, Rosella Pederson, Ruth Cook, Seymour Peterson, Howard Grothe, John Madsen, Wallace Broberg, Miss Russell.

Seated: Virginia Nelson, Evelyn Nelson, Hazel Olson, Irene Olson, Norma Calin, Evelyn Tormanen, Gladys Rucks, Jean McCormick, Elizabeth Satterlee, Muriel Wessman.

Not on picture: Jeanette Hawes, Harvey Abrahamson, Roland Olson.

IN THE fall of 1938, thirty-nine bashful boys and girls enrolled in the freshman class, intent upon a high school education. From the very beginning, this group seemed to take a vital interest in their environment and school activities. Roland Dille was elected to serve as president while Norman Groth filled his place in case of an absence. Hazel Olson was chosen to record all class proceedings while Marion Larson kept vigil over the class bankbook. Miss Russell and Mr. Heinzel are their class advisers.

Socially, the freshmen had a wiener roast on October 12 on the shores of Spring Lake. A class party was held on April 21.

A freshmen basketball team challenged the sophomore team to a game, and were the victors in the game played February 2, 19-7.

The band, 4-H Club, F. F. A. Club, and the Girl and Boy Scouts have many freshmen among their active members. A number of the boys were members of the second team in basketball. With the fine start that the class has, they hope to accomplish a great deal more before they graduate in 1942.

Miss Russell and Mr. Heinzel are their class advisers.

7th and 8th Grade

8th GRADE

Top Row: Mr. Edberg, Francis Dwyer, Lane Carter, Robert Gillman, Curtis Carlson, Wilton Anderson, Enus Belin, Allen Westerberg, Miss Arveson.

Seated: Harriet Anderson, Sylvia Wilson, Hazel Compton, Elaine Dille, Dorothy Johnson, Doris Kain, Ethelyn Johnson, Dayna Freeman.

7th GRADE

Top Row: Mr. Edberg, Eldon Gustafson, Thomas Olson, Dale Danielson, Joseph Anderson, Thomas O'Fallon, Carl Soderberg, Luverne Carlsted, Miss Arveson.

Second Row: Winton Olson, Jack Olson, Edith Bodin, Jean Fillipe, Shirley Benson, Glen Johnson, Paul Escen.

Seated: Lavone Broberg, Jean Anderson, Joyce Edlund, Gladys Johnson, Lorraine Haapala, Hazel Erickson, Eileen Salmonson, Eloise Olson.

Not on picture: Leighton Manthei, Wayne Paulson.

THE SEVENTH grade first took up its school duties in 1931. Twelve boys and eleven girls answer roll call each morning this year. Physical Education and the study periods rank the highest in the estimation of the students as the most enjoyable part of the six hours they must spend in school each day. The privilege to walk back and forth through the halls between classes is one which they thoroughly enjoy. Miss Arveson and Mr. Edberg are the advisers for both classes.

The eighth grade is a very active, almost mischievous, group beginning their school days in 1930. Their favorite class is Physical Education. The boys and girls of both seventh and eighth grades are divided into four squads. Several members of the class partake in noon-intra-mural sports. Two members of the eighth grade class represented Dassel in the declamation contest, a record which is not generally held by a lower class. Other students are members of the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and the 4-H Club.

Girls' Glee Club

THROUGH all ages music has played an important part in our lives socially, morally, and spiritually. Music changes with the times, but it always continues to have the same lasting effect upon its listeners. Even so our school has been doing its part to keep up the true spirit of music.

The Girls' Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Ording, meets for one hour periods on Tuesday and Thursday of each week. This music group which is made up of eight first sopranos, five second sopranos, and six altos, takes part in various programs given during the year. They participated in the annual music contest which was held in Litchfield this year. They selected a number of Swedish origin, "Oh, Vermeland."

The Glee Club was organized in 1936 after being discontinued for a few years. It is now one of the basic organizations at Dassel High School.

Boys' Glee Club

THE BOYS' Glee Club, a comparatively recent organization of the school, has given the boys an equal chance with the girls in the cultivation of their musical talents. This enthusiastic group of twenty-seven members meets one hour each Wednesday for practice under the direction of Mr. Heinzel, and have made notable progress in their singing this year. Although they have been handicapped due to insufficient open periods for rehearsals, the boys have made several public appearances and have been well received. The annual music contest was another activity in which the boys had a part. They chose as their contest number "Brothers, Sing On" by Edvard Grieg.

Ever since the first meeting, the glee club has been increasing in size, and the interest exhibited indicates that it will become a permanent part of our school activities.

SONG HAS always been one of the more important means which an individual uses to portray his inward feelings. From the war chants of the African native to the immortal works of our great composers, we see revealed expressions of love, anger, sorrow, and joy. Music itself can be divided into various classes, and appreciated by all types of people.

The mixed chorus, consisting of forty-eight voices, meets regularly one hour each Monday afternoon under the direction of Mr. Heinzel. They have taken part in the Christmas pageant and in various other programs during the current school year. Each spring they have an entry in the annual music contest where they can compete with other high school choruses. The number selected this year and sung A Capella was, "My Dream Is of An Island Place" by Noble Cain.

The chorus has been quite active in Dassel for some time. One-third credit is granted for participation in a music organization providing Rudiments of Music is taken during one of the four years in high school.

THE BAND, organized in 1936 under the direction of Mr. Estness, began with only a small number participating. It developed rapidly, however, and at the close of the year, there were approximately twenty players. It continued to be an active organization during the following year with the number increasing to about twenty-five pieces. Appearances were made at basketball games, various programs and also at the music contest held at Willmar. During the year the band helped to sponsor an amateur contest and the proceeds from this event were used to purchase new uniforms.

In the fall of 1938, Mr. Heinzel, the new band leader, organized a beginner's band, which at present consists of twenty-seven pieces. Rehearsals are conducted in half hour periods to make a total of two hours a week for the regular band.

The enthusiasm with which the band is received and the interest of the students themselves, is evidence that the band promises to be a better and more prominent part of the high school in the near future.

Senior Class Play

Standing: Aleda Swanson, John Mertes, Duane Wessman, Kenneth Bach, Donald Pope, Miss Ording.
Seated: Verna Terning, Carol Carlson, Helen Corkins, Mae Ostlund, Bernice Clement.
Not on picture: Lorna Peterson.

ONE OF the major activities of every Senior class is to give a class play, which this year was a three act comedy entitled "Be Yourself." The aim of every class play is two-fold. It is a source of income which may be used as the class desires. Secondly, it aims to develop in the members of the cast, poise, self-control, and the ability to speak and act before an audience.

The play centers around the matrimonial adventures of two girls who work for Madame Francis, one of New York's smartest interior decorators. When Beverly Lane, the steamstress, met Leslie Prince, a young newspaper man, he resembled the hero of her dreams. Leslie mistakes Beverly for the Princess Luverne, visiting royalty. The cases of mistaken identity and the humor added by other members of the cast made the play very entertaining.

After rehearsing for approximately a month under the direction of Miss Ording, the play was presented March 31. A matinee was given in the afternoon with the main performance in the evening. Roger Anderson and Lee Anderson were stage managers and Donald Dille, advertising manager. Besides revealing dramatic ability, the play was a financial success.

Junior Class Play

Standing: Margaret McCormick, William Ilstrup, Richard Johnson, Charles Sorenson, Gordon Bengtson, Marcella O'Keefe.

Seated: Miss Ording, Florence Haapala, Dorothy Sallberg, Olga Servin, Iryne Settergren, Ruth Carlberg.

THE JUNIOR class revealed some excellent dramatic ability in the presentation of the class play, a three-act comedy entitled, "Her Incubator Husband." The play, coached by Miss Ording and given on November 18, 1938, met with great success.

The action centers around Elaine Ellis and shy Felix Mudge who were engaged in childhood. Felix, in trying to evade his coming marriage, changes names and personalities with his friend, Roy Honeywell, who is already married. More trouble is the result when Mrs. Honeywell and Mrs. Mudge arrive. This leads to an entanglement which is only solved when the true identity of Felix and Roy is revealed. After much disturbance and trouble, Felix and Elaine are married.

A matinee was given in the afternoon for the benefit of the school children. Every member of the cast played his part exceedingly well. Charles Sorenson and Lowell Edlund were stage managers while Robert Madsen had charge of the advertising.

THE DAZZLER, our school publication, is edited bi-weekly in the local paper by a staff consisting of high school students and an advisory board of two faculty members. Staff meetings are conducted every other Wednesday when assignments are made. A special Christmas mimeographed edition was one of the more outstanding accomplishments of the year. Six members from the Junior class, Margaret McCormick, Joyce Belin, Richard Johnson, Francis Holm, William Ilstrup, and Marvin Skappel were added to the staff as understudies at the end of the first semester.

Girl Scouts

PATTERNED after the British Girl Guides, Girl Scouting was founded in America by Mrs. Julliette Law in 1912. As scouts, girls learn cooking, sewing, home nursing, child care, self-help and resourcefulness in all lines, as well as first aid, life saving, and other forms of community service.

The Dassel Girl Scout Troop was organized the fall of 1938 under the leadership of Mrs. Leland Hillstrom, who is assisted by three local teachers, the Misses Sealander, Carlson, and Arveson. Present enrollment is about twenty-five with regular meetings being held every Wednesday evening in the school. Four patrols have been formed with Dayna Freeman, Jean Sallberg, Phyllis Nelson, and Maxine Johnson as patrol leaders. Florence Haapala, scribe, and Ethel Anderson, treasurer, are the officers of this organization.

To raise money, they have sold candy at basketball games, and class plays, and some donations have been received. After the girls have passed their tenderfoot tests, an investiture ceremony will officially install them to the tenderfoot rank.

The Women's Club has been instrumental in promoting this Girl Scout organization by keeping interested people posted on Girl Scout activities as well as discussing at their meetings things for the benefit of the troop.

Boy Scouts

SCOUT TROOP 233 with Clarence Anderson, scout master, and Reinhold Johnson, assistant, was organized on April 26, 1937, under the sponsorship of the Parents and Teachers Association. Interest was created and a considerable number of boys passed their tenderfoot tests. Three patrols, the Beaver, Wolf, and Bob White, were formed with Roy Bengtson, Richard Johnson and William Ilstrup, respectively, serving as leaders. The following year new patrols were chosen and new leaders elected. Ralph Johnson was elected to lead the Beavers; Roland Dille, the Blazing Arrow Patrol; and Richard O'Fallon, the Indian Patrol. Elsworth Johnson is troop scribe.

In June of every year the majority of the boys go to scout camp at Lake Sylvia. In the fall they receive free admission to the first Minnesota football game. They attend the Annual Scout Review each spring. Dassel has had one court of honor and at that time several of the Dassel boys passed to second class rank. By collecting and selling of large amount of papers, the troop made fifteen dollars two years ago.

Every Thursday evening the boys meet in the city hall where boys who have attained the age of twelve and passed their tenderfoot tests are installed in the troop. From then on they partake in the business and activities and pay their dues of five cents a week.

The Boy Scouts have acted as guides and performed other services during some of the school activities carried on during the year.

Clarence Anderson is scoutmaster with George Edberg, his assistant. Boy Scout work has a large number of benefits for it not only provides enjoyment for members, but teaches many practical lessons as well.

F. F. A.

THE DASSEL chapter of the F. F. A. was organized in March, 1938, with twenty members, for the purpose of fostering agricultural activities among the boys. Present membership is thirty-one, each member being required to enroll in an agricultural class and also carry on a project. Meetings consisting of a program and business session are conducted once a month. The officers of the organization are:

President	Duane Wessman
Vice President	Paul Carlson
Treasurer	Norman Holmquist
Secretary	Stanley Dahlman
Reporter	Robert Regal
Adviser	William Munson

The largest activity of the current school year was the sponsoring of Dassel's first corn and grain show. There was a fine display in the various booths and prizes were awarded by the local business men. Dassel has been represented at both the district and state judging contests. Although this organization is only a recent one, its success thus far has been very credible.

4-H

THE DASSEL 4-H CLUB is a very successful organization, in 1938 having an enrollment of 43, the largest club in Meeker County, and in 1939 an enrollment of 38. Officers of the 1939 club are: President, Roland Dille; Secretary-Treasurer, Lorraine Haapala; advisers are William Munson, Agriculture instructor and Ruth Rygg, Home Economics instructor.

The Dassel 4-H Club was outstanding at the Meeker County 4-H Fair in August of 1938, winning a large number of commendable prizes, including four trips to the Minnesota State Fair. At the State Fair, Luverne Carlsted won the Sweepstakes on a corn exhibit and Florence Haapala received a blue ribbon rating on a clothing exhibit.

Some of the 4-H projects that are enrolled in are: Conservation, Clothing, Baking, Gardening, Livestock, Home Furnishings, Meal Planning and others.

The 4-H Club hold regular meetings once each month, as well as short meetings called during school hours to discuss projects, plan programs, etc. The average monthly meeting consists of a short program, a discussion of projects, a social hour during which games are played, and serving of a simple lunch.

The 4-H Club has proved beneficial in the respect that it teaches its members perserverance, unselfishness, leadership, and practical knowledge.

4-H Club work has been active in Dassel for four years and prospects indicate it will continue to be so.

Forensics

DECLAMATION has opened many opportunities to students of the high school to develop their talents along the line of public speaking.

Since Dassel has no debate team the annual declamation contest occupied a prominent place among school activities. Oratory, humorous, and dramatic have been the three main divisions; but this year extemporaneous speaking, poetry, and one-act plays were also included. Dassel was host to a speech festival in March which created more interest than usual.

Nine schools were represented and outstanding critics were present to suggest points of improvement in the various selections given. During the evening of the same day a program consisting of representative numbers was presented in the high school auditorium.

Each year three students are chosen from a group of nine to represent the school at the sub-district contest which was held in Howard Lake this year. The nine competing in the local contest this year were: Oratory, Orson Ilstrup, John Mertes, and Lorna Peterson; Dramatic, Bernice Clement, Carol Carlson and Maxine Johnson; Humorous, Carrollou Johnson, Ethel Anderson, and Dorthy Anderson. The three selected to represent Dassel were Orson Ilstrup giving "The Unknown Speaker," Bernice Clement giving the selection "The Soul of Anne Rutledge" and Carrollou Johnson giving "Exit of the Big Bad Wolf." Orson won first in the sub-district and placed second at the district contest. Carrollou reached the regional contest which is an unusual achievement for a pupil of the eighth grade.

Senior representation in this year's contest was larger than that of any other class. Miss Russell, Miss Ording, Miss Rygg and Mr. Moe served as coaches. Dassel can be proud of the students who had courage and ambition enough to improve their public speaking abilities.

ATHLETICS

Football

SIX-MAN football made its initial appearance in Dassel last fall; the sport having been discontinued for eight years, when the game was played with an eleven-man team. This new six-man type was originated especially for smaller schools. However, there are many who believe that Dassel could very easily and successfully play the eleven-man game. At the outset of the season it seemed that lack of experience would seriously hamper the prospects of a winning team but this was not the case as is shown by the season's record of one defeat in six games. This year's team is no doubt the heaviest to ever play under Dassel colors. The average weight of the starting lineup at the close of the season was one hundred fifty-five pounds which is a weight average not likely to be equaled in the near future. Those of the squad to be lost by graduation are Co-captains Duane Wessman and Leland Anderson, Donald Dille, John Mertes and Donald Pope.

THE SEASON'S RECORD:

Dassel	39	Atwater	13
Dassel	12	Kimball	12
Dassel	14	Grove City	14
Dassel	53	Atwater	13
Dassel	22	Grove City	2
Dassel	6	Annandale	46

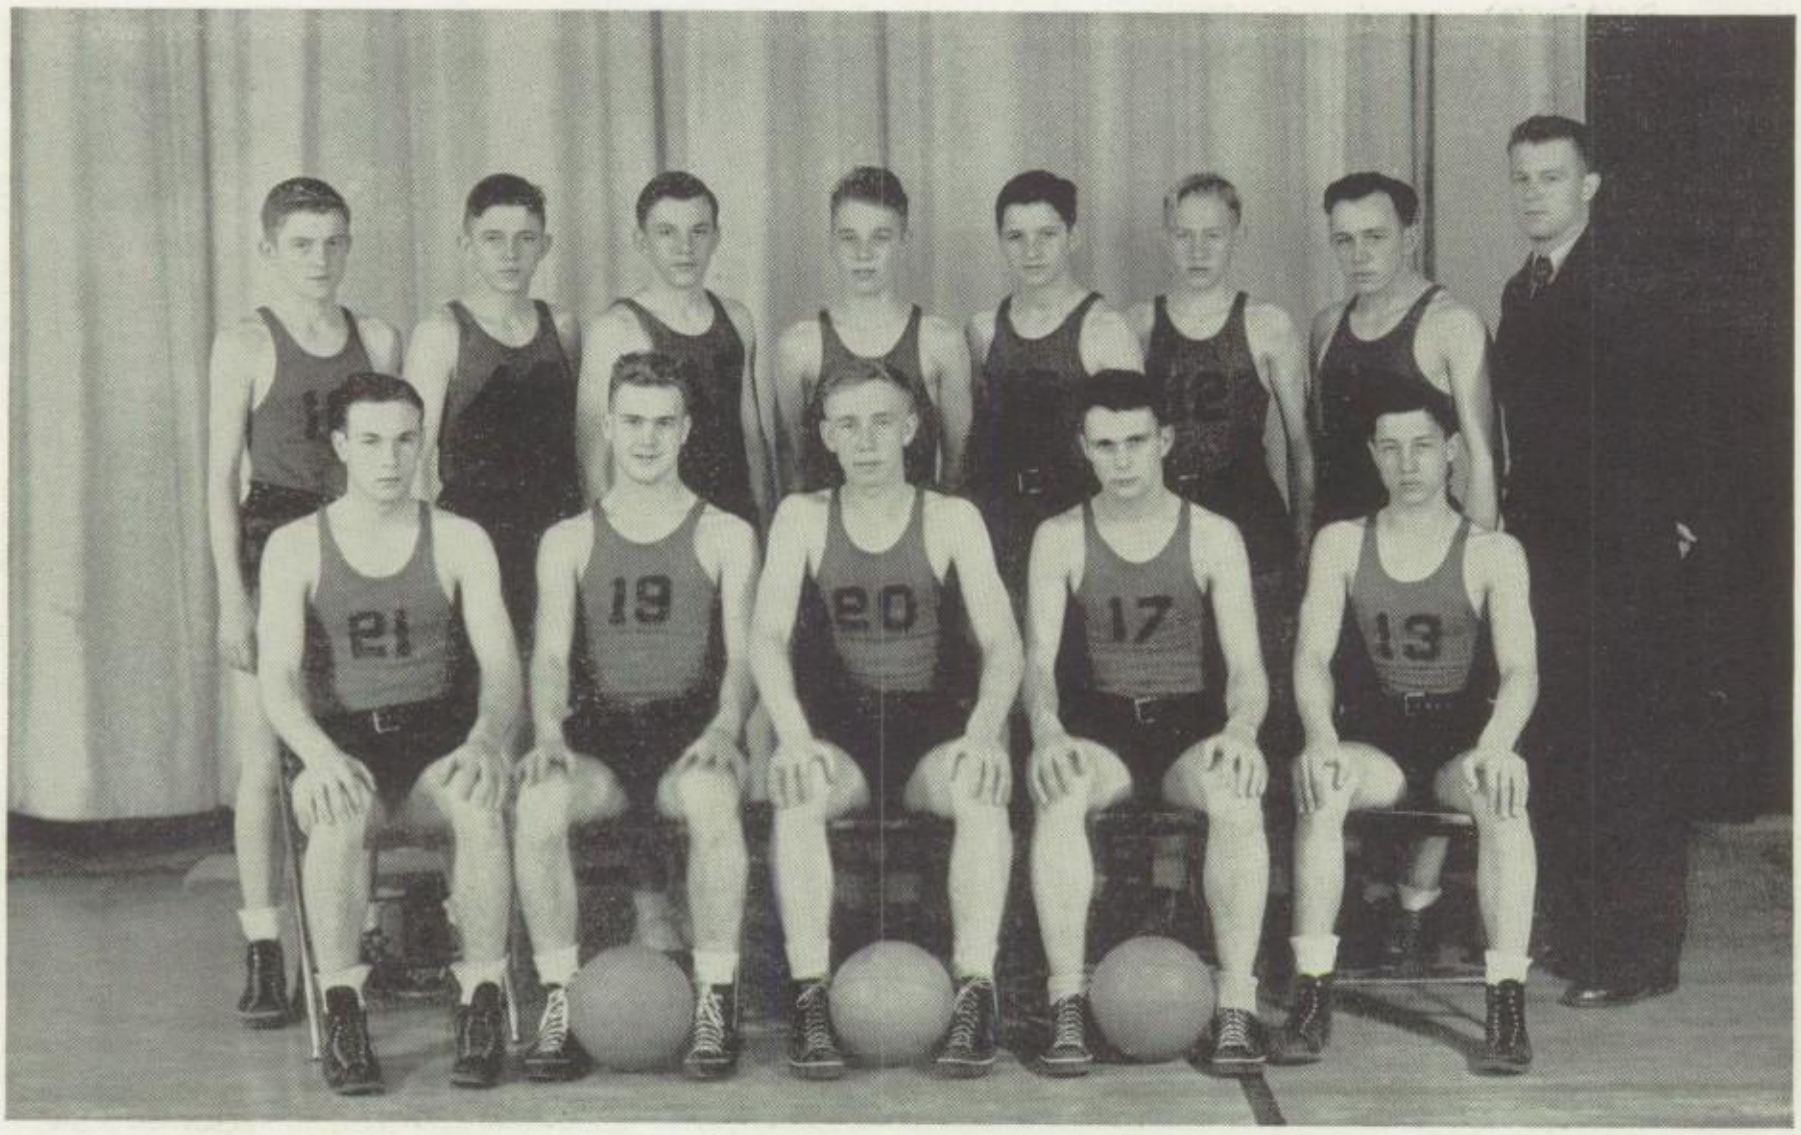
Basketball



Standing: William Ilstrup, Roger Anderson, Marvin Skappel, Robert Madsen, Gordon Bengtson, Roland Dille, Donald Arnleend, William Gebhard.

Seated: Duane Wessman, Kenneth Bach, Donald Dille, Leland Anderson, John Mertes.

THE FIRST practice found twenty-four prospective candidates reporting to Coach Gebhard. After two weeks of intense practice the "A" and "B" squads were singled out. This years schedule consisted of fourteen games with the "B" squad playing twelve. The "B" squad had a very fine record with only two defeats.

The "A" squad was mediocre. At times they appeared to be of outstanding ability and then again, very much below poor. The team was tied in the number of field goals as compared to their opponents. However, the opponents succeeded in making eleven more free throws.

No doubt, the best showing was made in the sub-district tournament when Dassel succeeded in defeating Rockford by the score of sixty-four to nine, only to lose the final game to Litchfield, forty-four to twenty-six.

The individual scoring records were held by Don Dille with ninety-six points and Bill Ilstrup with sixty-one points.

No doubt, in the future Dassel will have a more victorious team than this season's. This statement is backed up by the fine record made by the "B" squad.

Baseball

BASEBALL has always been the major sport at Dassel. In the past, many outstanding teams have been produced, and they have achieved several remarkable records, coming through a number of seasons undefeated.

A large share of the enrollment in high school are students who go to and from school on busses. Of course, these students are unable to participate in a great share of outside activities. However, baseball has proved an exception to this rule due to exceptional cooperation of the school management. They have allowed baseball practice to be held the last hour of each day, enabling more and more rural students to participate.

For the season of 1938, a schedule of ten games were arranged, but due to an extremely rainy spring, only four of the games could be played. Dassel won two and lost two for an average of fifty per cent. It is expected that this year's team will make a much better showing than last year's average.

IN A SCHOOL such as Dassel High School, where a majority of the pupils are transported to and from school in busses, there are, of course, many individuals who are not able to participate in inter-scholastic sports and so to meet this need, the Intramural program was created. Thus the rural pupils are enabled to play as much basketball and other sports as the average other pupil.

The school paper featured writeups on the Intramural games and at the close of the season the sports editor chose an all-star basketball team. The members of this team were Robert Regal, Daryl Wessman, Roland Dille, Donald Arnleend and Norman Groth. The officiating was handled by Duane Wessman, Charles Sorenson, and Donald Dille.

As a whole this year's Intramural Activities have been highly successful and beneficial from the standpoint of recreation, sportsmanship and general cooperation. It is sincerely hoped that in years to come the Intramural program will be continued with as much success as this year.

Various teams and leagues were organized with league standings, individual scoring and sportsmanship recorded and emphasized. A strong competitive spirit prevailed that was very conducive to fair play and exciting games.

The games were held on the noon hour under the supervision of Mr. Gebhard and because of the success of the games there was always a fair crowd of onlookers in the balcony. Indeed, some games took on the aspects of an inter-school game judging from the cheering and evident enthusiasm. Approximately thirty or forty boys took part in the various games.

ATHLETIC activities for the girls have been centered in a recent organization within our school, the Girl's Athletic Association, under the direction of Miss Arveson. G. A. A. is founded as a point system in which the major parts, kittenball, volley ball, basketball, soccer and tumblin resident, Lorraine Haapala; Secretary-Treasurer, Joyce Edlund; shuffle board and ping pong receive points according to the number of miles or time put in.

In order to receive a high school letter, a total of 650 points must be earned. If the student is willing to work hard, it is possible to earn this number in one year. Points could be earned during regular physical education class, intramural noon activities, play after school and also partaking in sports outside of school.

During the current year, the G. A. A. spent one afternoon in Atwater when attending play day. A program was given during the year which showed some of the activities carried on.

Officers of the organization are: Junior High President, Lorraine Haapala; Secretary-Treasurer, Joyce Edlund; Senior High President, Hazel Settergren; Vice President, Jean McCormick; Secretary-Treasurer, Verna Terning.

There is also an officer for each of the various sports.

Sportsmanship, skillful playing, cheerful disposition, attendance, and healthful attitude all enter into the awarding of individual points. Although this is a comparatively new organization in Dassel High, the outlook for a better and bigger G. A. A. is promising.

SCHOOL - LIFE

Class History

UPON THE top shelf of the old bookcase will soon be laid another history of a graduating class. This heavy volume, which soon will be yellowed with age and covered with dust, contains on its pages a few of the pleasant and memorable events of the Class of 1939. The history lies as a relic and a record of things said and done from the green Freshmen age to the graduation as Seniors.

In the fall of 1935, forty-six shy students seeking an education filled the Freshmen section of the assembly. Although the group seemed small and insignificant, they participated in several extra-curricular activities with awards being given to various members of the class in baseball, debate, declamation and work on the school patrol. There was also a representative on the newspaper staff. Bernice Clement served as president with Virgil Haglund and Helen Corkins as vice president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

As Sophomores, the class had moved a step higher and were beginning to take even greater interest in school activities. Their achievements for the year show participation in basketball, baseball, debate, declamation and journalism. Three members of the class received awards in livestock judging. One assembly program and one party were given during the year. Class leadership rested in the hands of Ralph Johnson, president; Roger Anderson, vice president; and Donald Dille, secretary-treasurer.

As Juniors, we were elevated to a greater height and felt capable of carrying on a larger number of activities. The cheer-leaders, both from our class, did much to cheer our boys in both basketball and baseball to victory. Again we were represented in forensics and journalism. Awards were granted to members of the class in commercial and agricultural work. One of the big undertakings of the year was the giving of their class play, "The Tin Hero." They also helped sponsor an amateur contest, and the funds raised from these two enterprises were used to give the Junior-Senior banquet which was carried out in a "Southern Plantation" theme. Officers during the year were Aleda Swanson, president; Carol Carlson, vice president; Mae Ostlund, treasurer; and Marie Sherwick, secretary. The year ended with a class picnic at Lake Ripley.

When we reached our Senior year, we felt that a high level in our education had been attained and we could look down on our underclassmen who were struggling desperately to reach the same or even a greater height. Some of the more important achievements consist of our trip to the state institutions, the presentation of our class play, "Be Yourself," and the editing of an annual. The football and basketball teams were made up largely of Seniors with representation in baseball as well. The newspaper staff consisted of mostly Seniors and several entered the forensic field. Carol Carlson and Aleda Swanson were valedictorian and salutatorian. Almost every activity of the class seemed leading up to one big event, graduation, when we would sever our connections with Dassel High to be hereafter classed as alumni.

Officers for the year were Donald Dille, president; Kenneth Bach, vice president; Carol Carlson, secretary and Edythe Kalli, treasurer.

The great volume closes and the many joys and trials of these thirty-three Seniors are in the past. Some of the names in this history may find their way into the Hall of Fame, but the last chapter of the high school career of the class of '39 has been completed.
